About the Barron's 2021 List of America's Best RIA Firms and the Barron's 2021 List of America's Best Independent Advisors

The Barron's rankings are calculated based on a formula applied to data compiled from a 100-question survey. The formula features three major categories based on their 2Q numbers, including (1) assets, (2) revenue and (3) quality of practice. In each of those categories Barron's does multiple subcalculations.

Barron's also considers a wide range of qualitative factors, including the advisors' experience, their advanced degrees and industry designations, the size, shape, and diversity of their teams, their charitable and philanthropic work and their compliance records.
